WAWP welcomes all LE Personnel
to our training conferences!

Investigating Serial Sex Offenders: Practical Strategies with an Eye Towards Prosecution

AAG Stephanie Hilton, AAG Noel Lawrence, DCI Special Agent Truli Nielsen and retired Madison Police Department Detective Kathy Peterson

Topics include: offender-focused investigations, creating and maintaining accurate criminal history records, working with vulnerable victims, collecting DNA samples, statutes of limitation, "other acts" and other litigation strategies, and how all of these investigative components can impact prosecution.

Road Tripping with the TSRPs: Special Issues in Vehicular Crimes Cases

AAG Emily Thompson and AAG Tara Jenswold

Wisconsin's Traffic Safety Resource Prosecutors (TSRP) will discuss common issues that arise in serious vehicular crimes cases within the context of presenting case studies from around the state.

United States Department of Agriculture: What Can USDA Do for You?

USDA Lead Investigator Nicole Housley

Topics include: Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) Overview; SDA Special Investigations Unit Overview; SNAP retailer fraud schemes; Red flags/things to look for as LE; criminal case example; and collaboration opportunities.

Professional Development: Successful Interview Tips for the Job YOU Deserve!

Captain Julie Rodriguez, Los Angeles Police Department

This presentation will provide specific tips on your Personal Development journey with a focus on emotional intelligence and a growth mindset. She will also discuss the difference between Mentorship vs. Sponsorship and why as women professionals we need both.

Web of Lies: Halderson Double Homicide Case Study

Dane County Sheriff's Office Detectives Sabrina Sims and Brian Shunk

After a son reports his parents missing, detectives uncover lie after lie that ultimately led to the double murder and dismemberment of Bart and Krista Halderson. From crime to trial in 6 months, this case study will discuss how multidisciplinary teamwork led to a successful prosecution.

Uncovering Personal Confidence

Angelica Robinson, Law Enforcement Professional (Detroit PD), Career & Business Coach, and Author

Uncovering personal confidence; leadership in a male-dominated field; effective communication & conflict resolution.

Wisconsin Law Enforcement Death Response Team

WI LEDR will discuss the resources they can provide in a line-of-duty death (on- or off-duty) LE suicide, and how you can prepare yourself and your family for this unimaginable tragedy.
